Gathered Here and There by Our Reporters and Prepared for the Busy Eagle Readers

At least six autos were turned tippy-turvy over high banks the way the past few days. How the occupants in any of them escaped serious injury or death is a mystery. We had hoped that careless driving would stop before someone was hurt badly, but it looks like persons will not accept warnings when they are presented right before their eyes. The worst is expected any moment.

Mrs. Ira Hall died a few days ago at the home of her son, Billy Taylor, on Campbranch, aged about fifty-five. It will be remembered that her husband died a few years ago at French Lick Springs.

Dr. N.E. Rierson came in from Bluefield via Cincinnati and other points North.

Clan Howard and J. H. Newland, good business men from Blackey, called on the Eagle.

The high power electric line is coming fast and has already reached Whitesburg with its poles and lines.

Many of our sporting set motored to Jenkins Sunday to witness a big ball game.

Circuit Court being over a distressing quiet prevails.

Miss Nannie Bentley, Lenora and Carrie Collette were pleasant Blackey visitors this week.

Frank Payne, of Thornton was a business visitor in our town this week.

Lost--In some store or office in Whitesburg a small ledger containing accounts, etc. Please look around and help me find this book. Valuable only to me.--Geo. M. Adams.

H. T. Taylor, a pleasant business gentleman and a member of the firm of Green and Taylor Electric Company, of Hazard was a pleasant caller on the Eagle Tuesday. This enterprising firm is placing a nice line of advertising in the Eagle and we take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to it.

Henry Caudill, a good citizen of the Bluefield section was up this week looking about.

It is the duty of every person when opportunity presents to become a member of the Letcher County Health League. Let no one presume to be so small as to refuse membership. The League stands dedicated to the good of all and the special benefit of none.

overland (in his Nash) for Louisville and other points up the state. They will be away till Friday or Saturday.

The funeral of Mrs. Amanda Ison, wife of Hiram Ison and daughter of Bona Banks, will be preached on 1st Saturday and Sunday in October near her late residence by Elds. D.M. Maggard and others.

Stephen Fields was over from Pikeville visiting his old haunts and chattering with his many friends here.

Arch Sergent and family motored over from Esserville to attend the memorial services of his father, the late Wilson Sergent held at the Blair Cemetery last Sunday.

Ballard Salyer and Willie Sergent of this place, John D. Huff of Linefork are among those summoned for jury service at Federal Court which opens at Jackson next Monday.

J. Levi Gray, division highway engineer located here for a year or more, leaves today for Salyersville where he will be similarly employed on the Paintsville-Salyersville highway. His host of friends here regret much to have him leave.

Mrs. C. W. McKinney, lately commissioned as postmaster at Fleming, was down first of the week. She will take a training course of two weeks before the postmaster at Louisville to fit herself for the place. All newly appointed postmasters in offices of the third class are advised to do this by the department.

The U. K. R. E.A., will be held Thursday and Friday Sept., 28th and 29th at Hazard Kentucky, we hope to see a full attendance of Letcher county teachers, $1. per month will be paid all teachers who attend, but time off will not be allowed for.

Curt Jent, who it will be remembered escaped custody a few weeks ago by jumping from a fast moving train while being brought from Hazard to Whitesburg, was re-captured this week at Covington. He is charged with killing Richard Smith on Bull Creek last winter.

Misses Dixie Whitaker and Renavae Pursifull left Tuesday for Lexington to enter Hamilton College.

Dewey Combs, who shot and killed Sam Reedy on July 4, was tried at Hazard and given a life sentence.

Near Mayking stands one of the only three trees known throughout Kentucky. It is what is known by our people as a laurel-oak. The bark and wood of the tree resemble that of the black oak but the leaves are like those of the common mountain laurel. A limb cut from the tree is on exhibition in the lobby of the postoffice and is attracting much attention as many people have not seen and know nothing of the tree.

Eld L. Williams Manager of the Whitesburg Hardware Company is on business at Louisville this week as well as attending the State Fair now going on there.

The Eagle has plead long and often in a general way for all to beware not to have anything to do with the liquor business. Sooner or later those who tamper with it will go up against trouble and losses. Gains unlawfully or wrongfully gotten generally fly away like dew before a morning sun. The long and the short of the matter is it has, never paid and it never will pay to violate the law either openly or secretly. Things just will out somehow.

Mrs. Clararinda Bentley will leave tomorrow for Lexington where she will consult an oculist. Her eyes have been giving her trouble for some time.

"May I print a kiss on your lips?" I said. And she nodded her sweet permission; So we went to press and I rather guess we printed a full edition. "One edition is hardly enough," She said with a charming pout; So again we went to press And got some "extras" out.

A subscriber asks "What is the only animal with a real nose?" Man is not only the only animal with a real nose but long and careful observation has convinced many investigators that the higher the state of civilization and brain development among men the more prominent is the exterior nose. Now, small noses on individuals do not necessarily indicate deficient intelligence. An old saying is, "Much nose knows much, little nose knows little." There is much more that could be easily said about noses, but since the subject is a very personal one we leave the reader to guess at the rest.

Uncle Jesse Hubbard aged 80, of Virginia, visited his sister, Mrs. Ludema Webb, aged 76, of Sergeant. It was the first visit he had made, her in 30 years.

$300,000,000 worth of ships were sold by the government a few days ago for $750,000. There were 226 of the vessels.

Dr. and Mrs. Sam Blair of Apache Oklahoma who have not been to this section for several years are said to be on their way to this country to make another visit to their many friends and relatives here. The snows of many winters are settling upon their heads too.

Eld. Robert Blair left to attend an Association of Primitive Baptist in the Sandy Valley. He attended the Sandlick Association Primitives held with the Balls Fork Church last week.

Eld. James M. Hall Called

A few days ago the Angel of Death entered the home of Eld. James M. Hall, of Viper, and bore him beyond life's vale. He was in his sixty-seventh year and had been a minister of the Primitive Baptist Church for more than thirty-five years. Jim Hall was well known and loved by all. He was one of the mountains' brainiest men and once represented his district in the Legislature. Some months ago while at work on his farm he received a severe blow on the head from which he never entirely recovered. It is believed this injury caused paralysis, a stroke of which a few days before caused his death. He leaves a number of children, all grown. The church which loved him and his host of brethren and friends will much miss him, but God whom he delighted so to serve called him and all should rejoice. Let heaven smile and God be praised.

A Big Meeting

Memorial services in honor of Wilson Sergent were held at the Sam Blair burying ground near mouth of Pert last Saturday and on Sunday a large audience assembled on the little hill to hear the preaching. Services were opened by Eld. J. P. Adams followed by Elds. Burnett Collins and David Maggard. Naturally Uncle Dave, as he is known all over this section, was given the closest attention. He is beyond the seventy-five year mark and yet holds forth to the old doctrine of the original Baptists in this country the same as when a much younger man. Uncle Dave is really a wonderful preacher and is highly honored and loved. Being evidently blessed, with power from on high his sermon was convincing and powerful beyond estimate. And under such preaching it is wonderful to see such a vast assembly so well behaved. It was a feast of good things to be there.

Prof. Harris has kindly consented to furnish us a short article on his school and its prospects and Supt., Clark has agreed to give us an article of interest on the county's public schools. Now is the time teachers, to hit the iron, while it is hot. The past is gone next year is not here and may never come. It is the eternal now that counts. They say the prospects for progress in our schools are greater this year than ever before, that teachers are showing a more determined spirit and that the attendance is far above the average so far. We believe that Letcher county is just ahead in many things and our public schools must keep a pace with all other things.

A Great Road

(Lexington Herald)

The plan to combine the celebration of the formal opening of the Lexington-Winchester road with the program to boost the Ky-Va highway September 21 in Winchester, is both timely and fitting. The Winchester road, as it is known to Lexingtonians, is a model of perfection. Linking Clark and Fayette, two sister counties, it stretches toward the east with an offer of combined hope and challenge. Shall Lexington, united to Clark county by a smooth surface thoroughfare the equal of a city street, likewise be linked by the extension of this road to the Virginia border thru the mountains into the mother state whence the sturdy pioneers came who blazed the first trail thru the hills and the wilderness?

A great opportunity was grasped when the Lexington-Winchester road was built into the splendid avenue for traffic which it is today. A great opportunity, one yet more vast in its possibilities, will have been let slip if the road to Pound Gap, Va., is not completed, if the mountains and the Blue Grass are not joined together by a modern highway.

The Winchester-Lexington road constitutes one of the greatest achievements in road building in Kentucky's highway history. The Ky-Va road is one of the greatest opportunities both for the mountains and the Blue Grass alike, ever offered in the state.

Upon the firm foundation of an achievement of surpassing importance, a foundation of accomplished fact, the Ky-Va road should be built. With the Winchester-Lexington pike as a cornerstone, what a structure can be erected as a monument to the loyalty and friendship of the mountains and the Blue Grass, of their inter-dependence and firm intention to meet the future, shoulder to shoulder!

We are often criticised because we do not personally mention those of our friends who become entangled in the net of the law. We refuse to do these things because we cannot see in what way our friends would be benefitted or the reading public profit. It is embarrassing enough for persons to be so thoughtless as to become entangled in the laws' net but it would be more so to them and their friends, children, and others, for their troubles to be noised abroad and gloated over by their enemies,

Fall!

And yet Fall appears to run shy; the sun blazes and sweat pours from the brow as it did when July's hot suns beamed upon us. But the year's ripening days are here; on the beautiful hillsides and in the coves the golden corn stands nodding to the breeze, inviting its gay owner to garner it in, that it may bear its part of the burden in alleviating the hungers of the coming winter, yes, when the snows are piled deep to the door-step and the warm fire crackles in the grate. The pit-pat of the frisky squirrel has been heard in the forest. He knows that storms are heaping up in the north and he, too, will need a few sweet nuts to tide himself and his lady companion thru the winter's blast. Of all the creation man seems to be the least observant. Even the little ant that crawls at his feet looks out for its winter needs while he looks only today in the face--caring not for the morrow.

Social

A B. Y. P. U. social was given at the home of Mrs. Charles Back Friday night, Sept. 8th., in honor of Misses Gertrude Lewis, Renavae Pursifull, and Dixie Whitaker. The guests enjoyed games upon lawn, and in the course of the evening refreshments were served. The affair was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

Seco Specials

Mrs. M. F. Gray, of St. Albans W. Va. is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. P. E. and Dr. Sloan of Seco.

Henry Pfening, Mr. Goldsmith and a number of prominent Secoans were business callers at the county seat yesterday.

The school here is progressing nicely under the careful management of Ex-Supt., E. B. Hale.

Work here and in this environment is slow. Want of a sufficiency of coal cars, needless to say, is the cause of it.

The Eagle is an appreciated weekly visitor in our quiet little town.

We are thankful to our business friends who so kindly remember us with their orders for job printing. It is our business to please you with the neatest and best printing at the lowest prices.

Letcher will be represented in colleges this year by the following students: Miss Gertrude Lewis, Georgetown College; Miss Dalna Hays, Berea; Miss Dixie Whitaker and Miss Renavae Pursifull, Hamilton College, Lexington; Miss Esteva Webb, Stonewall Jackson College, Abingdon, Va. Besides these a number of young men and ladies are enrolled at various other schools. All of which is a highly creditable showing for the rising county of Letcher.

The Fiscal Court

For the purpose of making a settlement on the Whitesburg-Sandlick Highway work now finished and other important matters pertaining to the county's highways the Fiscal Court was in session Monday and Tuesday, with all members present.

A proposition to hard-surface (sand and crushed rock) was submitted by County Attorney Blair and will probably be taken up by the court. His contention is, and it is a very feasible one, that the beautiful highways just finished and with nothing but dirt surfaces, by mid-winter or by next spring would become almost impassable by travel and would then cost immense sums to put back in repair. The idea is to put crushed rock and sand on the surfaces of these roads as fast as they become soft by travel or fall rains thus insuring a hard surface the coming winter as well as saving them. The Eagle believes this is the ideal thing to do. Much of this work could be done by those serving time in the county jail.

Baby Called

Tuesday about two o'clock in the afternoon little Virginia, the year old baby of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brennan, passed back into the arms of Him who gave it. The little one had been ill with something like Summer Complaint for over three weeks and had suffered very greatly. Mr. Brennan, who is a Post-office inspector was called from his work in Pennsylvania on account of the death of his precious little one. Our hearts bleed in sympathy for the bereaved parents and their many friends.

The Strike

Day after day we are asked by those who read little, if any, how the strike is getting along. Our reply is, "Well, it is still on hand." And that is true. In our opinion it will never be settled. The contention on either side is vital and owing to this in our humble opinion it will just drag along, dwindling as it drags, till we will hear little or nothing of it. If it does this later on it will bob up again and greatly retard the progress of business. In struggles like these at least 95 per cent of the people, those who have nothing whatever to do in bringing about the troubles, are the ones who suffer most. It is an unfortunate condition of affairs that require careful and systematic handling. The Eagle knows so little about strikes that it has never ventured an opinion--a policy which if pursued by all newspapers would have been much better for all concerned.

EDITORIAL

THE beautiful hillsides, so long dressed in gay draperies, are losing their splendid green and till mid October will continue to lose their brightness. Already the nuts are dropping to the ground and hiding themselves in winter haunts. No artist can paint the beauties of the hillside in autumn in our mountain land. There is that peculiar fascination and sublimity of beauty in the fading leaf clinging to its mother bow that baffles the descriptive hand and daunts the artist's brush. In the hills there is likewise enchantment. The winds sigh as they dangle and paint the dying leaves. The skies bending over them as they kiss the hill-tops reflect gray and gray, regretting to lose their blue beauty. 'Tis charming to live in the mountains in autumn; 'tis also sad. In reverie how much like life! The warm currents of childhood stir actively and the blossoms spring in effulgence; soon, like a mighty forest, he goes forth to conquer and the storms sweep and lash the leaves and branches he maintains his strength and glory. The season wanes, the fruition and ripeness comes on apace. Like a faded picture he stands in magnificent glory ready when the autumn blasts come to shiver awhile and then pass to the forgetting season. How beautiful to pass from Spring into the strength of Summer and gay Autumn, having done the part well! Life, what a beauty, and the passing how sad!

Is It True?

"It is none of the Eagle's d—n business who gets drunk or sells whiskey," said a party on our streets the other day. No, sweetheart, personally it isn't, but the now and the future so far as our county is concerned is in our hands, in yours as well as ours. Every local newspaper, every publication of every sort or kind, is a force in the land for good or evil. Its influence will go ringing down the years to come in this country and whether we think of it or not our influence will be felt. It breathes itself into the infant now nestled to its mother's breast, in the bright-eyed boy toddling on the street or on his way to school, in the young man or young lady now in their absorbing period. True, the sturdy, fully developed manhood and womanhood of the land, like the giant oaks breasting the storms and facing the lightnings on the hillside, will be affected little. In spite of ourselves and in spite of whatever conditions surround us, we are builders, builders of monuments of honor or mountains of disgrace. Therefore, brother, we must condemn these evils, these destroyers of manhood and womanhood. What-ever saps the strength and life of any good man, whatever sears him to usefulness and whatever causes him to eat into the heart of his wife and children as does a cancer, must be fought and tho we may not be able to lay the evil upon the altar with our javelin piercing its heart, when our mission is ended our hands will be clean. Indeed, good friend, it is a part of our business.

GREEN OLIVE PEPPER CORN

Corn sautéed with green peppers and olives is a delicious dish that may be prepared in a few minutes. Once tried it will be repeated frequently each year when corn on the cob is obtainable. Here is an excellent recipe:
Ingredients: Six ears sweet corn (uncooked); one-fourth teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon paprika; one green sweet pepper; one cup chopped Spanish green olives; two tablespoons butter.
Cut corn from cob. Remove seeds and white fibre from the sweet pepper. Cut the pepper into fine strips and cook five minutes in the butter. Add the corn and cook for ten to fifteen minutes, stirring to prevent burning. Add the salt, paprika and green olives. Serve.

Relief Is Found From Stomach Trouble

Hope for the millions of unfortunate men and women who are victims of stomach trouble is sounded by Wm. J. Mullhall, 2028 W. 91st., Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. mullhall was a victim of stomach trouble in its worst form but completely restored his health by taking Tanlac.

"My stomach went wrong ten years ago, and I got to the point where I could hardly eat anything. My nerves were in bad shape and I had rheumatism in my right shoulder which ached and pained me for two years. A friend of mine finally put me on to Tanlac, and now I feel just like a brand new man."

Undigested food ferments in the stomach and soon the entire system is filled with poisons. Tanlac was designed to restore the stomach to a healthy condition and build up the whole body. Millions everywhere have acclaimed its wonderful power. Get a bottle today. Tanlac is sold by all good druggist.

SQUIBS

Mrs. Harding, wife of the President, is seriously ill at the White House in Washington, but late reports say she is better.

By the turning over of an auto at Dunham Sunday Pat Caudill and Edgar Craft were hurt and the others in the car were scared most to expiration.

Judge Fitzpatrick informs us that in the Seco-Millstone district 100 men failed to be listed for taxation for the year 1921. Surely the proportion throughout the county is not so great. If so, the county will lose greatly in taxes this year. When anyone knows that he has not been assessed it is his duty to report at once to the County Clerk and be listed. Should he fail to do this, he is subject to a heavy fine.

The Mutual Fountain

Sold in Kentucky by the Mutual Fountain Distributing Company of Millstone, Ky., is being demonstrated here for a few days. The fountain has the appearance of being one of the completest soft drink producers ever exhibited here or any where else as for that. It is guaranteed to be perfectly sanitary and can be operated by even a child. It has behind it a number of the best business men in this and other sections of the country. It will be on exhibition at the State Fair at Louisville from Sept. 11 to 18.

A Wish

"I HAVE TAKEN Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of Cardui and her condition was much better."

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard on us."

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work." This card fulfills her wish.

Big AUCTION Sale
of 3 Valuable Farms
Sept. 13-14, 1922

We have contracted with J. C. and Nannie E. Parish, of Manassas, Va., to sell at public auction, on the above-named date, their three farms, which are located in Scott county, Va. The sale on the 13th is to be of Nickel's farm located on both sides of north fork on Clinch River, below Fairview, on the premises, beginning at 11 o'clock, rain or shine.

Positively No Reservations

Farm No. 1.—This splendid farm contains 488 acres and has been subdivided into 10 separate parcels, and will be sold in 10 different tracts by the acre. There are 120 acres of exceptionally fine bottom land, which can not be excelled in the state. There are about 225 acres of virgin timber land which is of choice oak and poplar. The balance of this splendid farm is in grass and cultivation.

Farm No. 2.—This farm is near Pattonville, on the Lexington to Bristol Highway, containing 117 acres. The farm will be sold in two tracts—about an equal amount in each tract.

Farm No. 3.—This property is near Duffield, contains 165 acres and is especially adapted to fruit growing; it adjoins a successful commercial orchard. The farm will be divided and sold to suit purchaser. The last two named farms will be sold on the 14th, at Pottsville and Duffield.

Terms of Sale.—One-third cash will be required upon execution and delivery of general warranty deed. On the deferred payments a period of one, two and three years will be given, at 6 per cent interest. A deposit of 10 per cent will be required immediately upon purchase of said land, which will be applied on first payment.

Six Cash Prizes Given Away

You should not miss this sale because you will have an opportunity to secure a cash prize for blue prints of Nickel's farm, or further information concerning any of the property described herein, can be had by applying to the under-

Dodson Killing
Calomel Habit

Don't sicken or salivate yourself or paralyze your sensitive liver by taking calomel which is quicksilver. Your dealer sells each bottle of pleasant, harmless "Dodson's Liver Tonic" under an ironclad, money-back guarantee that it regulates the liver, stomach and bowels better than calomel without making you sick—15 million bottles sold.

GREEN OLIVE PEPPER CORN

Corn sautéed with green peppers and olives is a delicious dish that may be prepared in a few minutes. Once tried it will be repeated frequently each year when corn on the cob is obtainable. Here is an excellent recipe:

Ingredients: Six ears sweet corn (uncooked); one-fourth teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon paprika; one green sweet pepper; one cup chopped Spanish green olives; two tablespoonfuls butter.

Cut corn from cob. Remove seeds and white fibre from the sweet pepper. Cut the pepper into fine strips and cook five minutes in the butter. Add the corn and cook for ten to fifteen minutes, stirring to prevent burning. Add the salt, paprika and green olives. Serve.
